What is fusioncenter?

It is YOUR space! A blank canvas to brand and showcase your products at a fraction of the cost of building out a dedicated showroom. The concept is simple: it's a space that converts to your brand on demand; everything from a Showroom, Conference Center, Training Event, Sales Demonstration, and dedicated or day office space.

YES, fusioncenter has you covered.

Why pay for high priced real estate when you can have everything you need at a fraction of the cost.

What you get...

Showroom – Fully dedicated and partially dedicated showroom configurations to showcase your products.

Conference and Training Center – Host integrator training, sales demonstrations, product releases, and certification courses in a conference center designed to cater to the security industry.

Fully Functional Security Operations Center – Your solution can only look so good on a laptop. The fusioncenter SOC is designed to show your prospective customers how your solution looks and feels in a full sized command environment.

Conference Rooms – State of the art conference rooms will support AV presentations, video conferencing, and conference calling, all intended to give you an edge in the marketplace to close the deal.

Breakout Rooms – Need to strategize, do sales engineering or planning? Fusioncenter's fully equipped breakout rooms will provide you with the confidential space to work with your customers.

Dedicated Office – Need dedicated space? Fusioncenter will provide you with dedicated private office for one or more of your team members.

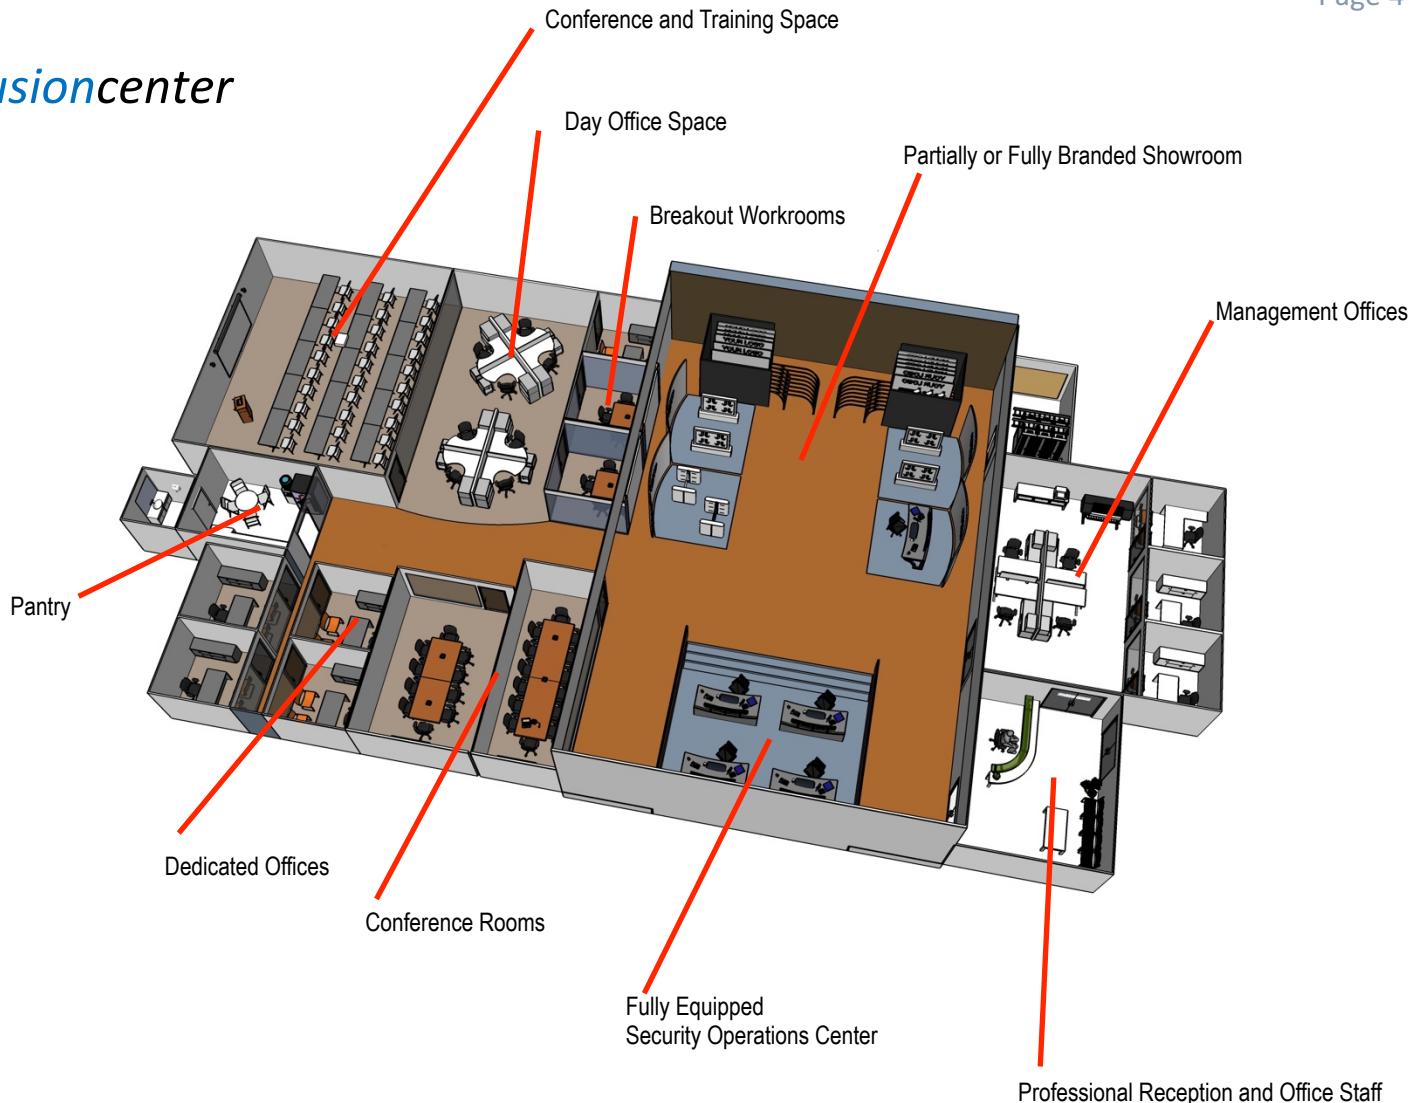

Day Office – Providing more than a coffee shop's WiFi, day office space allows your traveling staff to confidentially plug in and set up shop for the day.

How to use fusioncenter...

Since it's your space when you're using it, you have the freedom to do what you'd like: a sales presentation, training seminar, day office for out-of-town staff, and much more. Best of all, your security integrators and consultants get to use the space at no additional costs so long as they are showing your product to prospective customers.
