IDENTITY, LOGO TYPE, AND SYMBOL - HOW NOT TO USE THE LOGO

Shown here are things that should not occur when placing the logo artwork into documents. It is critical to maintain consistency in appearance. No substitutions or alterations are allowed.

PRIMARY FONT

Here is the primary and preferred typeface used for marketing materials (ie. title work, paragraph headings, etc). *Body/paragraph text options are shown below in the “complimentary & substitute fonts” section.

American Typewriter - Light, Regular, Bold

ABCDEFGHIJKLMNOPQRSTUVWXYZ abcdefghijklmnopqrstuvwxyz
1234567890-=[] ; ' , . / ! # $ % & * () _ + { } : " < > ?

Typewriter - Regular

ABCDEFGHIJKLMNOPQRSTUVWXYZ abcdefghijklmnopqrstuvwxyz
1234567890-=[] ; ' , . / ! # $ % & * () _ + { } : " < > ?

COMPLIMENTARY & SUBSTITUTE FONTS

Complimentary Font (when the above font is unavailable, or for certain font styling (like ITALICS and for number accents) and other uses such as the “body text” for documents, and fonts used for the web)), you may substitute it for only the following:

Courier - Regular, Italic, Bold, Bold Italic

1234567890-=[] \ ; ' , . / ~ ! # $ % ^ & * () _ + { } : " < > ?
