HEALTH AND PERFORMANCE NUTRITION

THE INFINITE MISSION: FEEL BETTER, PERFORM BETTER.

“If you’ve done everything in your power to be your best self – then we’ve got the next step. Infnite is the food of achievers.”

At Infnite we back ourselves to perform better, and feel better every day – and we want the same for you.

Driven by the powerful goal to achieve excellence in the nutrition space – our team did away with damaging synthetic fillers, thickeners, and sweeteners used by so many other food manufacturers.

We didn’t compromise on taste however, experimenting with mouth-watering natural flavours to create moreish and enjoyable eating experiences.

Soon enough, we found our mission to create natural science-backed nutrition aligning with other individuals in the nutrition field. Food scientists, performance athletes, and passionate food manufacturing professionals all came together to contribute to our products’ development.

The results were world-first integrations of gluten digesting enzymes, probiotics, and highly bioavailable Coconut and Sacha Inchi proteins – all as standard features in our products.

If you’re someone who strives to be better, then rest assured we’re the partner for your success.

GLUTEN DIGESTING ENZYME

In an era of fillers, additives and preservatives – Infinite took a stand to move in the other direction, happily breaking the status quo in food manufacturing.

Travelling outside of the nutrition space enabled the Infinite team to scour the scientific community for the latest research in food technology and what the findings might mean for our products and foods.

After baking millions of banana breads in trial and error, we were able to integrate a world-leading enzyme into all of our products, which pre-digests gluten during our food making processes.

Designed to increased energy yield, optimise the gut environment by breaking down stubborn proteins that accumulate in the gut, our foods are able to create overall improvement to food tolerance and gut-sensitivity.

PROBIOTIC L. ACIDOPHILUS

At Infinte we've got an ethic that spans the entire team, and this unrelenting attitude has us asking 'Is this the best we can do?', at all times.

'Why stop at our range-wide enzyme integration?', we thought. And so we added another layer of proven health improvement to our products.

Innumerable studies conducted in recent times alongside advice publicly announced by authorities such as the World Health Organisation, have created an enormous exogenous probiotic and pre-biotic industry; largely driven by the well-documented benefits of supplementing these handy little organisms.

We believe that probiotics are another essential step toward taking a complete, and integrated approach to gut health and overall well-being.

INFINITE PLANT PROTEIN

Our unique Sacha Inchi Coconut protein blend was sourced and developed with a few goals in mind:

- Avoid inflammatory whey protein
- Find ethical sources of plant-proteins
- Still provide a complete amino acid profile

Luckily, we were able to find a few hidden gems. Plukenetia volubilis, also known as Sacha Inchi, is a vine that grows wild in the Peruvian regions of the Amazon rainforest.

One of the Amazon's best kept secrets and sources of vegan proteins, Sacha Inchi contains all of the essential amino acids not made in the human body, and enjoys a very high bioavailability thanks to its abundant omega-3 fatty acid content.

Coconut Protein has long been used in supplementations and is another rich source of easily digested and readily bioavailable proteins.

“No whey! Introducing a unique Coconut and Sacha Inchi Plant Protein Blend!”

NATURAL INGREDIENTS

“Superfoods and gorgeous natural produce combine at Infnite to create amazing taste sensations.”

You can be assured that when eating Infnite - that we've taken every measure to create foods that come from the land.

Keeping Infnite all-natural was one of the core beliefs that underpinned the brand from the start.

We often see other brands start out natural before switching to synthetic ingredients to save on cost - something we promise will never happen at Infnite.

LEAD THE WAY

AN ORGANIC FOCUS

“We took no shortcuts in finding the most natural ingredients.”

Countless times during the development of our delicious natural eats, the Infinite headquarters echoed with a commonly heard phrase ‘Is this organic?!’, a habit that results in our brand managing to keep it 100% organic when it came to our ingredients.

We understand the importance of making sure our products are not just the best tasting but also the healthiest foods - in both macro and micronutrients.

Truly nutritious food is about more than the ‘numbers’ on the back of the packet.

So we steered clear of commercial growers that cared only about bottom lines, quantity over quality, and recovering costs from spoiled harvests.

Classic Infinite, making waves and keepin’ it real.

MADE WITH ORGANIC INGREDIENTS, FOREVER!
GREAT DIVERSITY OF MACRONUTRIENTS

NO NASTY SWEETENERS

“We actually set out to improve our communities’ health from Day 1.”

We bet you’ve heard headlines like these recently:

‘Excessive Sugar Consumption Linked to Heart Disease’, or perhaps ‘Sweeteners Shown to Increase Carcinogenic Activity’.

Sick with the unethical state of things in sweets and food production, we decided to make a difference with Infnite.

Our approach was one we hadn’t been seeing from our competitors however: to be uncompromising when achieving the same great tastes, and sweet flavours we had come to enjoy from our favourite traditional sweets.

And so we spent months refining, and happily taste testing, to put an end to the irresponsible use of sugars and sweeteners in the market today.

We are using 100% non-GMO, Birch Bark Organic Xylitol to sweeten our products, combined with natural hunks of dried fruits, petals, seeds and nuts. We’re hoping this small change help reduce both metabolic disease within our community, and the current reliance on GMO modified sweeteners and fructose to satisfy our sweet-tooths.

ABOUT INFNITE

Infnite is a wholly Australian start-up, featuring a group of highly driven personalities with a shared vision to shake up the scene in health foods worldwide.

We researched every ingredient in every product we make. If any ingredient wasn't purely of benefit to the body, we'd throw it out! Our challenge then, was racing each other to find something else that fit the bill.

This is the spirit of the team, and the foods we create.

We are proud to stand behind the products we create, and say confidently that they will be only of benefit to you.
