

What is a Sherpa?

Some members of the Sherpa programme are known for their skills in providing business, financial, legal and other support to guide founders and help carry the load. They are often referred to as Sherpas. The Sherpa programme is a guide to the business world - class.

There are three key measures of success on completing the programme:

1. Your start-up performance that you and your business partner agree on.
2. Time saved in your transition and in re-structuring your business.
3. Employment income identified and generated in that time.

If you are a founder we can help you work for both of you. We have a particular interest in helping founders re-structure their business.

Our Sherpa has three different programme levels to suit your needs and budget. Company, Managerial and setting up your business.

With Sherpa you can get the best of both worlds - the best of your corporate career and the best of your own business.
