ABOUT FLORENTINA

Florentina Events was created by Jake Weatherill, the creative force behind the company's culinary vision.

After years of training in a number of top restaurants across the globe & working privately for a range of exclusive private individuals, in 2013 Jake decided to pursue his vision of how he believes an event catering company should serve its customers across the UK which has led to the expansion of the operation into the Middle East.

The philosophy of Florentina Events is to create delicious and inspired food that stand out from the crowd as well as offering the upmost privacy & exclusivity in your own setting. The combination of attention to detail, imagination and great technique never fails to impress diners and a growing list of clients across various countries.
