

Our Extraction Process

How Humic and Fulvic are handled during the extraction process is crucial. Both can be easily damaged by harsh processing methods using toxic chemicals, high heat, or pressure extrusion, all of which destroy Humic and Fulvic. Our products are carefully crafted to ensure you receive the best quality minerals in every serving.

We protect our Humic and Fulvic every step of the way with our proprietary filtering process that utilizes nothing but cool, purified water. It's lengthy and complicated, taking as much as 20 to 30 days, but it creates a far superior product.

Our facility

Manufacturing is done in our cGMP certified facility, meeting or exceeding all FDA and industry guidelines and standards.

We utilize extensive monitoring, documentation, internal and external audits and rigorous testing procedures. Quality control enforcement is assured for all aspects of production, from receipt of raw materials, plant cleanliness, lot tracking, production, and shipping of finished goods.

Our Guarantee

All Vital Earth products are guaranteed free of unhealthy fillers, binders and toxic chemicals. No high heat, pasteurization, or pressure extrusion are ever used in any of our formulations.

We are adamantly opposed to artificial sweeteners and MSG of any type, so you will NEVER find either in any Vital Earth formula. Only all natural, low-glycemic sweeteners, such as stevia, are ever used.

All ingredients are from premium sources, gluten-free, and any flavorings used are from natural sources.

Humic Fulvic

Humic and Fulvic Extracts... It's what we're all about

Vital Earth's plant based mineral extracts are a concentrated blend of all the minerals and trace elements found naturally in an immense array of ionic plants. Humic and fulvic minerals balance and energize all cell life and biological properties they come in contact with. They increase the speed of biochemical reactions in the body, as well as making those reactions more efficient and effective. In simple terms, fulvic/humic supercharges all biological systems and processes it touches.

The Key to a healthy life starts with proper nutrition. With over 20 years experience in the industry, we have a deep understanding of the benefits minerals can offer. Whether you're looking for more energy, to support bone health, brain function, gut health, or overall wellness, essential minerals are literally the missing key to unlocking vital wellness.

Fulvic spreads throughout the system helping to maintain healthy metabolic balance, supporting the proper function of vital processes, and assisting in recharging the electrical potential of healthy cells. Fulvic assures cells are nourished, energized and healthy.

Humic goes to work in the gut, extracting nutrients from food and assisting already normal detoxification, anti-oxidant response, proper elimination and normal flushing of toxins, providing an essential connection to a powerful microbiome.

What Makes Our Products Different

At Vital Earth Minerals, we are committed to making a positive impact on your health and the environment. Gut Health

Humic minerals bind in the gut to move food through the intestines, and pull out fecal blockage, spent pharmaceuticals, chemicals, food additives, chlorine, and other toxic matter. It is literally Mother Nature's healthy roto-rooter.

The beauty of Humic is that all the while it is detoxifying and cleaning, it is performing healing tasks throughout the system. It is excellent for keeping immune response in check, and its polysaccharide content makes it a phenomenal pre-biotic by supporting good bacteria, enhancing enzyme production, boosting immune function, providing hormone support and giving strength to cell membranes.
