Logo Concept:

We are a large network of field service so something that represents a network of people or coverage area. See some examples below of other companies that cover a network of services and people. We also want a minimal design.

Possibly a logo that can be a standalone that represents our company. Here are some logo's we like as ideas that other companies have done

LABORLab

KLEYDI™

Kleydi is a patented multi-factor passwordless authentication system. This is a security product intended for companies which want to delegate the authentication and user management to a third party provider.
