

Inspiration and thoughts...

Different types of characters	Good things	Bad things
See http://www.shutterstock.com/pic.mhtml?id=133726478&src=id	Not for children! A lot of character!	Quite complex, would be difficult to adapt to different situations without spending a lot of time on editing.
http://www.shutterstock.com/pic.mhtml?id=133726487&src=id	Not for children! A lot of character!	Looks a little bit like a sheep. And depressed.
See http://www.shutterstock.com/pic.mhtml?id=95133175&src=id	Simple! Easy to adapt.	Not much character.
	Extremely simple which means it can be drawn fast. Can even be edited in powerpoint.	Not very characteristic.
		If Dilbert had not been so well known, I believe I would have thought the character is ugly.
	Quite ok look.	