

Color Your Life App Design Guide

1. Introduction

Project goal is android app design. "Color Your Life" app is advising about using colors in everyday life to achieve goals, improve life, health, partnership, business and life overall. It is personalized to individual users. Recommendations are provided for personal and business environment, clothes, food etc. It is useful and fun.

Preferred design is clean, neat but special in a way to attract.

The app is functionally finished and almost ready for publishing. It is under testing and polishing state.

User colors a star/hexagram to his/her like. This aspect (star) of the app is not subject of design and will remain the same. We are looking for design for all other pieces of the app, page look, buttons, icons, font, icon for the whole app, etc.

We were trying to provide as detailed information as possible to get as tailored design as possible.

2. Splash and Licensing Check Activity

First activity will be splash screen with a background licensing check. This part is not yet completed. We are looking for idea for splash screen that would be informative and attractive. Informative in a way to explain user how to start coloring.

3. Coloring activity

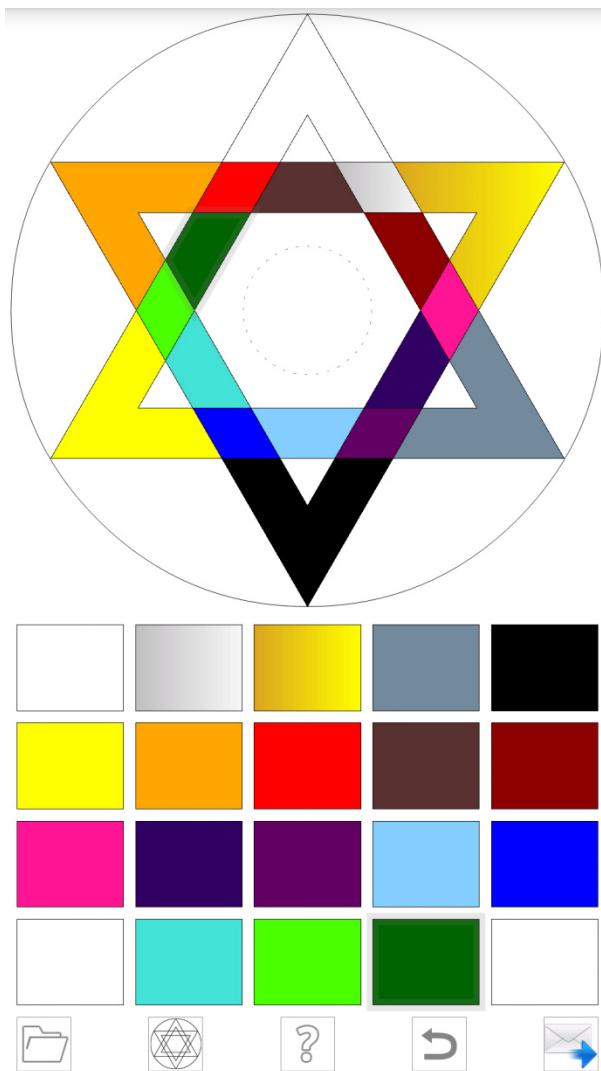

Initial screen of the app is shown below. Star comprises of 18 polygons. User selects parts of the star and colors them by selecting a color at the bottom of the screen. This aspect (star) of the app is not subject of design and must remain the same.

Bottom part of the screen contains 5 buttons. Their meaning is:

- Open past stars/analysis.
- Clear all colors / new coloring. Shaking mobile does the same.
- Short Instructions / how to use.
- Undo last coloring.
- Run analysis and proceed to recommendations.

Analysis is run on backed server and internet connectivity is required.

Colour Horoscope

Even though you don't always show your emotions your environment can perceive them very well and responds to them as well. Become aware of the strong influence you have on people's emotions as soon as possible, and don't misuse it. Instead, support others in their development with your inner wisdom.

Enjoy using colours in life.
