Steven Lewin began painting 5 years ago in an attempt to overcome a lack of focus caused by his symptoms of Parkinson's disease. Having personally benefitted from the experience of creating artwork, he is now keen to use his creativity to help others with the condition.

An exhibition of Steven's work is to be held at Maison Visinand on Saturday 13 September, with all proceeds from the sale of his paintings to be given to the Lausanne Chapter of the Parkinson's Society.

We very much hope that you will be able to join us for this event.
