

Don't give up until you've given your all.
Don't let people that hurt you occupy your mind.
Good people do bad things. Get over it.
Block bitterness from ever taking root in your heart.
Take every opportunity to express gratitude.
True brotherhood is forged out of loyalty and love.
There is no excuse for deceit.
Words matter.
Forgiveness is not optional.
Never make insincere apologies.
Worrying is a waste of time.
Choose your destiny by choosing your friends.
Marriage is a unified front. Make your spouse a priority.
Truth and grace are inseparable.
Humor disarms, softens and endears.
Selflessness is a lifestyle.
Whenever possible, give generously and anonymously.
Never apologize and give an excuse in the same sentence.
Faith must fuel the core of who you are.
The path to freedom begins with asking difficult questions.
Take advantage of every opportunity to educate yourself.
Be your spouse's protector and advocate.
Radiate humility, vulnerability and love.
Give your finish line the ability to expand.
